

Being on Earth: Adolescent Education Today

At a time when our students lives are being increasingly influenced by the virtual, the question of the nature of embodied consciousness takes on new significance in education. How can we better integrate students' full-body experiences into the way we approach teaching? Is it time to focus more consciously on bringing students to experiences rich with meaning and help them school their thinking on what has touched and moved them?

February 16-18, 2020

Sunday-Tuesday, 9am-4pm

Summerfield Waldorf School

Cost: $150 includes snack and lunch

Registration: www.findingcontext.org

For information contact Beth:
findingcontextorg@gmail.com

Wilfried Sommer and Jon McAlice will lead morning sessions exploring aspects of inner agency, individuality and presence in adolescents. Afternoons will be focused on practices for increasing self-directed activity in the various disciplines.

A collaborative workshop for Waldorf teachers sponsored by:

